Executive Director’s Message
Eddie McCormick, CEP

SCWCPA Members,

It’s hard to believe that we are already approaching our 61st Annual Convention. I want to once again thank everyone who has registered for this event in New Orleans. This is always a great opportunity to not only catch up with fellow members, but to also learn about new products and changes in the Industry.

I have been hearing from some of you during my member visits that work is finally picking up and most of you are filling your backlogs. However along with that come manpower shortages. This is what is great about our organization. Most of you have built relationships with other contractor members to help out with some of these shortages by “sharing” employees.

The Association itself has felt the economic crunch as well these past two years and has recently gone through a lot of changes as well. So believe me when I say this, “We are all in this together”! This is why the Association is grateful to have members that have been with us for so long that continue to support the organization so that we can continue to educate and represent the wall and ceiling industry on your behalf.

I would be remiss if I didn’t take time to thank the presenters in our educational programs throughout the state. So a big thanks to Mike Boyd, Rhondalyn Riley, Charlie Haun, Scott Netherton, Lynn DeGeorge, John Trepagnier, Ed Hiller and of course a special thanks to Brent Cannedy not only for his time in presenting to numerous architects and municipalities but especially for serving as our first Associate Member President in the Association’s 61 year history. I know as a distributor time is very valuable and making time to serve an association of our size is no easy task, but Brent has helped lead us through another great year!

I hope each of you have a great summer. Remember, we would never be able to accomplish what we do without your generous support. If you ever feel that you are not getting a return on your investment, I want to know personally. Without each of you, the SCWCPA would be just another trade association.

Eddie McCormick, CEP
Executive Director

President’s Message
Brent Cannedy

It is hard to believe that another year has passed and that our convention is right around the corner. We are very excited to bring the convention to New Orleans this year and we believe that you will have a great time at this year’s event. This will be the first time in many, many years that the convention has moved outside of the state of Texas and part of the reason we are doing this is that under our AWCI charter we have access to Louisiana, New Mexico, Arkansas, and Oklahoma. In an effort to attract Louisiana contractors to our association, we thought it would be good to bring the convention to them.

The executive board visited the hotel and restaurant earlier this year and were blown away by the hotel that has been newly renovated. In addition, we are having dinner at The Palace Café on Thursday night which should be a great event. Finally, as part of the educational program on Friday we have a speaker that will address “Obama Care” (The unaffordable care act) and its implications on your business.

On another note, prepare for CI (Continuous Insulation). The state of Texas will soon be requiring that continuous insulation be installed outbound of the framing. While this is obviously a great way to sell EIFS and the solutions it brings to this complicated problem, it greatly complicates the use of stucco. There are a lot of unanswered questions regarding stucco over insulation board such as fasteners, trims, returns into openings as well as fire. When looking at these projects as they come out for bid just know that the insulation board that has been placed outbound of the framing has been done so arbitrarily by the architect, meaning that no thought has been given to the problems that may fall in your lap such as cracking, fastener lengths and gauges, vapor permeability, etc., etc., etc. Going forward, our association will need to address these issues in our stucco design manual. Fortunately we have positioned the association to better handle these types of issues when we hired Eddie.

Eddie serves on the ASTM committees that look at these issues as well as the AWCI committees that are actively testing these assemblies. Know that your association will lead on these issues and will address the many problems that are sure to erupt as a result of the energy code changes. And if I didn’t say it strongly enough before… sell EIFS. Exterior Insulation and Finish Systems ARE Continuous Insulation. EIFS has all the necessary fire, structural and performance testing.

We look forward to seeing you all in New Orleans and we thank you for all your support.
